

GEORGE WASHINGTON INVOICES AND ORDERS PROJECT

CATALOGUER'S MANUAL

Archaeology Department
Historic Mount Vernon
February 2012

INTRODUCTION

The Invoices and Orders Project is designed to catalogue each item ordered and received by George Washington at Mount Vernon. In the late 1990s, following the completion of the excavation of the South Grove Midden archaeological site, Mount Vernon archaeologists Dennis Pogue and Esther White conceived of a project that would “facilitate the study of material culture of eighteenth century plantation life in the Chesapeake area” through the careful cataloguing and databasing of George Washington’s orders to his factors in England and the invoices that accompanied those goods back to the plantation (Mount Vernon Archaeology Department 1997). A study of this kind allows for an unprecedented opportunity to systematically examine and analyze a gentry planter’s material world through his participation in the consignment system. In this system, large-scale planters like George Washington entered into relationships with agents in England to whom they would sell their agricultural surplus in exchange for the credit with which to buy imported English products.

The first phase of the project was undertaken by Betsy Alexander who was assisted by Amy Dennis. Betsy created a Paradox for Windows 5.0 database to input the data relating to the orders and invoices to and from Robert Cary and Company, the agent to whom Washington directed most of his business between the years of 1759 and 1772. Their goal was to eventually enter all consignment transactions, not just those between George Washington and Robert Cary. Although this effort led to some initial promising analyses, the database was never completed.

With the commencement of the Archaeological Collections Online initiative, Mount Vernon’s Archaeology Department decided that revisiting the database was an important step in positioning the artifacts from the South Grove midden into a broader context. The goals of this second stage were to translate the old data into Excel, finish cataloguing all consignment transactions from the earliest recorded in 1754 through the latest recorded in 1773, and to upload these into a searchable, web-based format.

The completed database includes a total of 32 groupings of orders and invoices inclusive of 72 unique documents (Table 1). The number of unique documents is more than double the groupings because in some instances, George Washington wrote to his factors requesting goods on several different dates, but received the goods all in the same shipment, recorded in the same invoice. The same occasionally occurred for orders that were divided into multiple shipments and therefore multiple invoices. Most of the order and invoice documents have been transcribed and are published online at the Papers of George Washington Digital Edition (Crackel 2008). Three are in their original format but available online through the Library of Congress (Library of Congress 1999).

Table 1. List of George Washington's orders for goods and corresponding invoices.

Wherever possible, we tried to relate each item in an invoice to an order. Because of issues with document preservation in some instances, no order survives for the corresponding invoice (and vice versa); however the decision was made to include these as well. Requested individual items which have no matching invoice (and vice versa) were entered into the database with either "no order" or "no invoice" entered into appropriate columns. Our goal was to try to capture the largest possible material world of George Washington's household and his slaves.

USING THE DATASET

Before using these data to answer research questions, please take a moment to read the cataloguing manual for important information on the decisions made about what to record and how. Also be aware that just like any archaeological catalogue, while our aim was to be as object and transparent as possible, mistakes happen. If you have a question about any entry, consult the original document. Additionally, the Papers contain vast amounts of information in the footnotes that might provide important details not captured in this effort. The following fields were recorded (Table 2).

Field	Description
Item	A one or two word name for the good received.
Item Number	Sequential number in the order the item appears in the invoice or "no invoice" if there is no match for the item.
Ship Date: Month	The month that the item was shipped.
Ship Date: Day	The day that the item was shipped.
Ship Date: Year	The year that the item was shipped.
Invoice Reference	The relevant reference to the volume and page of the Papers of George Washington or the html link to the Library of Congress document.
Vendor	The name of the shop or individual from whom the item(s) was procured.
Invoice Description	A record of the description of the item exactly as it appears in the invoice.
Unit Price	Not always originally recorded, but the cost of a unit of the item, as opposed to the total cost.
Category	The broad grouping into which the item falls (i.e., art, furniture, textiles) to facilitate macro-analyses.
Subcategory	The sub-grouping into which the item falls (for textiles, i.e., bedding, fabric, notions, or windows).
Qualifier	Used if the quantity recorded is not per piece (i.e., pair, yard, pound, bushel).
Quantity	The count of the item ordered.
Cost	The total cost of the item.
List	An * is used to denote if multiple items are recorded as a list with only one total cost.
Ship via	The name of the ship that transported the goods.
Agent	The person or company Washington ordered from; the agent did the buying from individual shops or vendors.
Order Date: Month	The month the order was placed.
Order Date: Day	The day the order was placed.
Order Date: Year	The year the order was placed.
Order Description	The matching order to the item description that appears in the invoice.
Order Reference	The relevant reference to the volume and page of the Papers of George Washington or the html link to the Library of Congress document.
Other Reference	Used for citation to works other than the Papers in which the item may be mentioned.
Note	Records individual items that were part of a list of items with one cost or for any other comments.

Table 2. Data entry fields for the Orders and Invoices Database.

DATA ENTRY FIELDS

The following are the instructions used by cataloguers when entering Invoices and associated Orders into the database.

Item

Enter a one or two word name for the item received. Do not capitalize the first letter. Choose from the list in APPENDIX A. Consult the Oxford English Dictionary (OED) for definitions.

Item Number

Before entering any invoice, the items listed in this document must be sequentially numbered starting with 1. Enter the number assigned to each item. Enter “no invoice” if the order does not have a matching invoice document or the order was unfulfilled. The purpose of this field is to ensure that any invoice can be put into its original sequence and, therefore, retain contextual information that would otherwise be lost when items were separately catalogued.

Ship Date: Month

The numerical month the item was invoiced is entered here or enter “no invoice” if the order does not have a matching invoice document or the order was unfulfilled.

Ship Date: Day

The year that the item was invoiced is entered here or enter “no invoice” if the order does not have a matching invoice document or the order was unfulfilled. Enter “not recorded” if the original date was not recorded on the invoice.

Ship Date: Year

The year that the item was invoiced is entered here or enter “no invoice” if the order does not have a matching invoice document or the order was unfulfilled.

Invoice Reference

Enter the primary reference to the volume and page of The Papers of George Washington or to the link to the original document on the LOC website.

Use this format for invoice references in the Papers: Papers Vol #:Page(s).

Vendor

Choose a vendor from the list in APPENDIX B.

The Vendor is the name of the shop where the goods were purchased. These entries are often associated with an individual or owner’s name. For example, John Didsbury, a London shoemaker, provided many of the shoes that George Washington ordered.

The entry choices have been simplified and standardized for the purposes of data entry and searching. For example, in the records two vendors appear to have supplied Washington with gunpowder: Boucher & Walton and Bouchier & Co. In fact, this is the same vendor and should be entered as “Boucher” in the database. Similarly, the vendor entry “Crowley” was variously recorded as Crowley & Company, Theo. Crowley, Theo: Crowley & Co., Theoa Crowley, Theodo. Crowley &ca, Theodosia Crowley, and Theodosia Crowley & Co. More information on these vendors appears in the Papers, which should be consulted for research questions pertaining to this aspect of the colonial consignment system.

Invoice Description

Record the description of the item exactly as it appears in the invoice, using the same spelling, punctuation and capitalization. You do not have to include the quantity because this information is in the Quantity field. You do not have to include the unit price because this information is in the Unit Price field. If in doubt about any part of the description, copy and paste it in its entirety.

Where “ditto” or “do” is used, say what that refers to but place your words in brackets after the word “ditto” or “do” .

If you spell out abbreviations or complete what appear to be obviously incomplete words in order to clarify the meaning, place these additions in brackets.

Unit Price

If the price per unit was originally recorded, it usually follows the invoice description and an “@” sign. Leave blank if the unit price was not recorded.

Category and Subcategory

Choose from one of the categories listed in APPENDIX C.

These fields attempt to interpret the items in terms of their use or function on the plantation or in the household. Although striving for some degree of uniformity, categorizing items may at times be more of an art than a science. Often the same types of items fall under a number of categories or subcategories. Use the invoice and/or order descriptions for clues to the intended use; consult the OED.

Qualifier

Enter the qualifier used in the original invoice. Choose from one of the categories listed in APPENDIX D.

Note that abbreviations in the original are recorded as the complete word in this field (i.e., lb. = pound; doz. = dozen). Things which come in pairs such as shoes, gloves, etc. should be listed as such (2 pair of shoes = 2; a pair of scissors = 1).

Quantity

Record the Quantity received as listed on the invoice. This may be a whole number or a decimal to 2 places.

Cost, List

Record the total cost of the item(s).

The format is set as: pounds.shillings.pence. Use zeros to fill in empty spaces (eg. 0.4.0). FYI, 12 pence = 1 shilling, 20 shillings = 1 pound.

If the item is part of a list of items with only one cost given, record the total cost and mark the List field with an asterisk (*).

(In some instances when two items appeared on one line and the unit prices were included, the data enterer went ahead and calculated the cost for the individual items. An * was still usually recorded.)

Ship Via

Choose from the list in APPENDIX E. This records the vessel upon which the items were shipped, listed at the top of each invoice. The list of entries represents a standardized version of the ship names; therefore, variations in spelling are not recorded.

Agent

The Agent is the person or company Washington ordered from and who was doing the buying from individual shops. Choose from the list given in APPENDIX F.

The list of entries represents a standardized version of the ship names; therefore, variations in spelling are not recorded. There will always be an agent entry, even when an invoice has no matching order (or vice versa).

Order Date: Month

The numerical month the item was ordered is entered here or enter "no order" if the invoice does not have a matching order document.

Order Date: Day

The year that the item was ordered is entered here or enter "no order" if the invoice does not have a matching order document. Enter "not recorded" if the original date was not recorded on the invoice.

Order Date: Year

The year that the item was ordered is entered here or enter "no order" if the invoice does not have a matching order document.

Order Description

Record the description of the item exactly as it appears in the order, using the same spelling, punctuation, and capitalization, and including any quantity or price information.

Where “ditto” or “do” is used, say what that refers to but place your words in brackets after the word “ditto” or “do” .

If you spell out abbreviations or complete what appear to be obviously incomplete words in order to clarify the meaning, place these additions in brackets.

Order Reference

The primary reference is to the volume and page of The Papers of George Washington or to the link to the original document on the LOC website.

Use this format for order references in the Papers: Papers Vol #:Page(s).

Other Reference

Used for citation to works in which the item may be mentioned.

Note

Record any additional information in this field.
